

It's a double celebration in Medford on Friday, February 3rd!

We'll be supporting both National Wear Red Day and the Patriots as they head to the Super Bowl!

At 3:00 p.m. we will be gathering on the 3rd Floor to enjoy (in moderation) some football themed snacks: buffalo & honey buffalo wings, onion rings, veggies and dip, and beverages.

We encourage associates to Go Red for American Heart Month by wearing something red...a red sweater, blouse, shirt, tie, jacket, scarf, etc. Additionally, bring your football spirit by wearing your favorite team jersey!

If you don't have anything red to wear, you can make a $1 donation at reception, and receive a "Go Red" lapel pin. Even if you are wearing red, you're welcome to donate and get a pin.

Individual donations can also be made to the American Heart Association by clicking here. Agero has also made a sizeable donation to the American Heart Association on behalf of the company.

So how do the Patriots and National Wear Red Day go hand in hand? Well, many of us remember in 2005 when Tedy Bruschi, only 31 at the time, suffered a stroke right after participating in the Pro Bowl. To read more on this, click here.

Fun football facts: Quarterback Tom Brady and head coach Bill Belichick will be participating in their seventh Super Bowl together this Sunday. And according to Pro Football Talk, the entire Falcons active team roster has made five Super Bowl appearances.
